Realest Oracle Deck

Finding Magic in the Mundane - 53 Authentic Cards and Guidebook

by Kendra Austin, illustrated by Bria Benjamin

Reconnect with magic and inspire confidence with this distinctly multicultural, queer, 53-card oracle deck.

Everything is spiritual. Your spirituality may not show up as voices in your head, flashing lights, or dancing orbs. It might show up as small nudges. The magic of your life is not about the crystals, the candles, or the typical "crystal bitch" stuff. It's you. The Realest Oracle is a 53-card deck for learning how to trust your internal guidance and unleash the magic inside of you.

Each card reflects the minutiae of daily life—crying on the train, building furniture, cruising on dating apps—things we discount as insignificant. The deck is accompanied by a full-color, 120-page guidebook that explores the meaning behind each card and how best to use the deck in your daily life.

The Realest Oracle will teach you how each choice we make to create, connect, love, and grieve is all part of the journey and the next step toward our destiny through beautifully illustrated cards that bring design to the divine.

UNIQUE ORACLE: This deck offers a beautiful and accessible entryway into the oracle and spiritual space for those looking for a gorgeously illustrated deck that reflects the diversity and beauty of the world.

Deep Dark Forest Notes

by Julya Hajnoczky

Explore the wonders of the woods with this notecard set featuring foraged mushrooms, pine needles, and leaves. Carefully arranged and photographed against striking black backgrounds, each snapshot of biodiversity by artist Julya Hajnoczky offers a fresh and sophisticated touch to your handwritten messages.

Author Bio

Julya Hajnoczky was born in Calgary, Canada, and raised by hippie parents, surrounded by unruly houseplants, bookishness and art supplies, with CBC radio playing softly, constantly, in the background. Inevitably as a result, she grew up to be an artist. A graduate of the Alberta University for the Arts, her multidisciplinary practice includes digital and analog photography, and seeks to ask questions and inspire curiosity about the complex relationships between humans and the natural world. Julya has completed artist residencies at the Beaty Biodiversity Museum (Vancouver, BC), Kinnship House (Vulcan County, AB), and the Empire of Dirt (Creston, BC). Her work has been exhibited internationally, and has been acquired by public and private collections including the Alberta Foundation for the Arts and the Fairmont Banff Springs Hotel. Julya's most recent adventures, supported by grants from the Calgary Arts Development Authority and the Alberta Foundation for the Arts, involved building a mobile natural history collection laboratory (a combination tiny camper and workspace, the Alfresco Science Machine), and exploring the many ecosystems of Western Canada, from Alberta's Writing-on-Stone Provincial Park, to the Gwaii Haanas National Park Reserve in BC and Wood Buffalo National Park, NWT. If she's not in her home studio working on something tiny, she's out in the forest working on something big.

Men to Avoid in Art and Life 2024 Wall Calendar

by Nicole Tersigni

Through its unlikely pairing of classical artwork and meme-style captions, the Men to Avoid in Art and Life wall calendar highlights the universally female experience of having her area of expertise explained in great inaccurate detail by an overly confident mansplainer.

This calendar is the perfect present for Galentine's Day, Mother's Day, birthdays, or for whenever you're feeling particularly weighed down by the patriarchy (always). Whether it's the Sexpert or the Patronizer, the men in each painting are shockingly familiar, proving the inconceivable antiquity of their existence. From Tersigni's infamous Twitter thread and widely popular book, this wall calendar connects us through laughing at the unfortunately topical and frustrating experience of being a woman.

Author Bio

Nicole Tersigni is a comedic writer who lives in Metro Detroit with her husband, daughter, and two dogs. Since childhood, Nicole has felt an intense need to diffuse uncomfortable moments with laughter, so writing a book that finds humor in dealing with entitled assholes was inevitable. Drawing on her experience in improv comedy at the Second City Training Center and women's advocacy at the YWCA, Nicole is excited to combine these worlds and bring some much needed levity to the fight against the patriarchy.

Liberty Classic Floral Origami Flower Kit

by Galison, by (artist) Liberty of London Ltd

Origami flowers are a natural extension of the Liberty brand—combining flowers, floral prints and making. The Liberty Classic Floral Origami Flower Kit contains origami paper and instructions to create a decorative Kusudama flower ball, plus 4 additional flower designs. The origami papers feature double-sided full color Liberty floral origami paper designs. The floral print mix allows the maker to create a personalized palette for the decorative flower ball. The kit contains 75 sheets, enough to make 1 kusudama ball plus 3-15 additional flowers, depending on the flower design. The box is sized to hold work in progress or to store several completed flowers. The kit includes 8 colorways of Mitsi, tying back to Liberty's historic love for Japanese motifs and 2 colorways of the classic Margaret Annie to harmonize the palette.

Using the 500 Piece Book Box Puzzle format, we are able to tell the story of Basquiat's work in greater detail.

Author Bio

Jean-Michel Basquiat is one of the best known artists of his generation and is widely considered one of the most important of the 20th century. His trendsetting works combine archetypal symbols and writing with invented iconography in compositions that are edgy and raw with a strong sense of color and balance. Internationally popular and shown in museums worldwide, his work appeals to both a sophisticated art scene crowd as well as a younger pop culture driven audience.

BRAND PURPOSE

"The Basquiat brand embodies the values and aspirations of young, international urban culture. Basquiat's unique life story is as multifaceted as his artworks which reference everything from jazz and hip hop to black history, art history and human anatomy. The brand is about telling stories through the lens of an artist who was both influenced by art and culture and who life and work has in turn exerted vast influence on the art, culture and fashion of today.

Author Bio

Chris grew up somewhere between the canals of southwest France, the Swiss mountains, England's Constable country Essex and Margate's amusement arcades. The youngest of four children (the little brother role he still embraces in adulthood) Chris spent the majority of his education drawing on his friends' schoolbooks and was brought up on a diet of Tom & Jerry cartoons, Asterix comics, Swiss chocolates and French sunshine.

Chris' irreverent sense of humour was born from years as both a mild mannered doodler and angry burger flipper. Taking inspiration as much from Henri Matisse & Claude Monet as he does The Muppets as well as odd bits of packaging collected from supermarkets he visits on his many travels, Chris' work has been described as charming and visually striking with a sharp graphic style. His illustrations are populated with rambunctious characters that are a cleverly crafted mix of an uncomplicated line style, wonky perspectives and conspicuous colour choices.

Currently Chris lives in Bristol, England, where you can find him lifting weights, dunking biscuits, baking bread or restoring unloved furniture when not busy drawing.

Author Bio

Lacey Benard was born in and grew up in Los Angeles. From a very early age, she loved all kinds of art, especially freehand scrapbooking and cardmaking using nothing but scissors, a Sharpie, and scraps of colored paper. She spent over a decade as a classroom teacher and eventually worked her way up to a school administrator role. While on hiatus from the field of education as she started her family, the opportunity to tap into her love of papercutting cute art presented itself through the creation of Bitty Bao. She currently resides in Dana Point, CA with her husband and two children where she enjoys catching all of her children's small moments, exploring new places, and eating yummy food.

Lulu Cheng was born in Taipei, Taiwan and moved to the United States for college. Her love of books and learning intensified as she followed her passion to become an elementary teacher in Los Angeles, California. Once having her own children, she realized how important it was to her to raise them to be bilingual and biliterate. Her passion for passing on her language and culture to her own children sparked a fire inside of her to create books and learning materials in Chinese. She currently resides in Los Angeles, CA with her husband and two children where she enjoys planning family trips, taxiing her kids to their extracurriculars, and finding the best ice cream spots around town

Carbon City Zero

A Collaborative Game: Can you work together for a carbon neutral future?

by Possible, illustrated by Rami Niemi

PLAY AND LEARN: learn about climate action as you play this new board game for all the family

SCREEN-FREE FUN for 2-4 players aged 8 and up

SOMETHING TO TREASURE: this is a quality product made to last, with bespoke illustration and stylish packaging (on FSC stocks)

Carbon City Zero is a collaborative climate action game, in which players develop a sustainable city by greening transport, transforming industries, getting citizens on board, and showing world leaders how it's done. Each player starts with an identical deck, buying additional cards from a shared marketplace to create a more sustainable city. But you need to negotiate, working together with cities around the world. Balancing the need to generate income with reducing carbon, players can follow numerous paths to victory, but collaboration is key. You'll need to bring together governments, industries, and the public. And if you can't bring carbon levels to zero before it's too late - we all lose. The stakes couldn't be higher.

Author Bio

Possible is a climate-action organisation set up in 2009. From their founding challenge to cut carbon by 10% by 2010, to their world-leading Solar Schools campaign, or more recent work on solar-powered railways, everything they do is about inspiring more people to take more action on climate change.

Finland's favourite cheeky illustrator Rami Niemi uses his trademark style to create belligerent, boundary-pushing work that blows raspberries in the face of stale content. Despite his envious client list (including Nike, Google and The New York Times), Rami's happy simply drawing "scenes with many characters, clothes, guitars, haircuts and beer cans.

by John P. Forsyth, PhD and Georg H. Eifert, PhD

It's time to claim your calm! Break free from anxiety with this guided daily journal-from the authors of Anxiety Happens.

Do you feel anxious or stressed out most of the time? Do you worry obsessively about what might happen in the future, or ruminate endlessly about the past? You are far from alone. For many people, anxiety has become the new normal. It keeps us up at night, greets us in the morning, prevents us from being fully present in our lives, and depletes our energy, resilience, and resolve. But it doesn't have to be this way.

From two internationally recognized experts on anxiety and the authors of Anxiety Happens comes the guided journal, offering daily writing prompts based in proven-effective acceptance and commitment therapy (ACT) to help you make peace with uncertainty, and soothe worry, fear, and panic. In addition to in-the-moment exercises for staying calm, you'll explore the underlying causes of your anxiety, discover how to move past your anxious inner voice, and learn to focus on what really matters to you-so you can finally move past anxiety and live your best life.

If you're tired of anxiety getting in the way of the good stuff in life, the powerful writing prompts and exercises in this journal will help you find lasting calm and peace of mind-even when "anxiety happens."

A Journal for Single Moms

by Beth Raymer, illustrated by Laura Harrison

A beautifully designed guided journal specifically for single moms, by critically acclaimed author and single mom Beth Raymer.

There are an estimated 15 million children being raised by a single mother in the U.S. Yet, single mothers are deeply underserved when it comes to celebrating their triumphs and sharing their trials and challenges of being a single parent in today's world.

Acclaimed author, journalist, and single mom Beth Raymer hopes to change that. She brings her signature wit, honesty, and wisdom to this unique resource that gives single mothers the most important tool of all: a voice.

This thoughtful journal encompasses both an inspiring personal reflection on the single-motherhood journey and a practical guide for any single mom—whether by choice, following divorce or widowhood, working, stay at home, or any other personal circumstance—to feel empowered and confident. In addition to featuring inspiring quotes from a wide-range of women, the journal includes prompts that explore the conscience and experience of single moms wherever they are in their journey toward building satisfying and successful lives with their children.

Author Bio

Beth Raymer is the author of critically acclaimed memoir Lay the Favorite: A Memoir of Gambling, which received rave reviews. Raymer has an MFA in nonfiction writing from Columbia University and lives in New York City with her young son, Junior.

Laura Harrison is an animator and painter with MFAs from the School of the Museum of Fine Arts Boston and The School of the Art Institute of Chicago. Her work has appeared in various festivals including The New York Film Festival, Ottawa International Animation Festival, and many others. She lives in Chicago, Illinois

Waffle Topple by Ridley's Games

Stack delicious waffles and topping pieces onto the fork without toppling the stack in this stacking game for all ages! Each player takes a turn to roll the die and then attempts to add the shown waffle or topping piece to the stack of waffles.

Steady hands are essential, as the more pieces you knock over, the more pieces your opponents add to their piles, and the more points they accumulate. Once all the waffle and topping pieces have been either stacked on the fork or are in players' piles, the final round begins where each player builds a freestanding stack out of their pieces, with specific combinations of toppings earning more points than others - but don't forget that your stack mustn't topple over, so don't waffle over it too long! F*ck This Journal Up

by Sourcebooks

Unleash your RAGE, frustrations, pent-up aggression, irritations, bothers, and anything else that needs to be let out on the pages of this journal! (Seriously, pretend like the journal really wronged you or something.)

Oddly enough, this guided journal is for people who love journaling and those who hate it. F*CK THIS JOURNAL UP is the anti-journal", filled to the brim with delightfully destructive activities involving ripping, burning, defacing, or otherwise tarnishing the journal - though you can also write in it if you want.

Take on the following mission (or say f*ck it):

- Release your negative emotions - use this journal for some self f*cking care
- Air your grievances - satisfy your d*mn needs to complain
- Engage in stress relief- you'd be surprised how satisfying it is to destroy a journal
- Pay some d*mn attention to your mental health - stop being an a*shole to yourself and take it out on the journal instead

This activity book for adults features swearsy journal prompts about anger, annoyances and other negative emotions. Poke holes in the pages, write down your comebacks that occurred to you long after the argument, stick the journal in the shower - we don't care. F*CK THIS JOURNAL UP encourages you to use the journal as a healthy outlet for releasing your emotions. But, more importantly, F*CK THIS JOURNAL UP also encourages you to absolutely RAGE with abandon.

Proceed WITHOUT caution.

F*ck This Journal Up. . . For Justice

by Sourcebooks

Pissed off by the current political climate? Outraged by the systematic loss of rights for women, people of color, LGBTQ+ people, and Americans across the board? Disgusted that guns have more rights than people? That with school shootings, guns are now the leading cause of death for children and teens? That climate change is virtually ignored in favor of the corporations and top 1%?

Yeah, we are too.

F*CK THIS JOURNAL UP. . . FOR JUSTICE is for you and everyone who is TIRED and demands better from the government (and the whole d*mn world while we're at it.)

Your mission is to f*ck this journal up beyond repair while exploring negative emotions in a healthy way:

- Release your negative emotions - use this journal for some self f*cking care in these unprecedented times
- Air your grievances - you deserve some quality time for complaining about sh*t
- Engage in stress relief - take out your rightful anger on these pages and get that d*mn catharsis
- Pay some d*mn attention to your mental health - stop being an a*shole to yourself, you can get through this sh*tstorm

This activity book for adults features sweary journal prompts about RAGE, frustration, indignation, and other negative emotions coming up in response to the current clusterf*ck that is our world and government right now. Featuring additional outrageously infuriating quotes by infamous right-wing politicians, F*CK THIS JOURNAL UP. . . FOR JUSTICE may not be as good as screaming directly at the establishment, but it comes pretty d*mn close.

Imperium: Horizons

by Nigel Buckle and David Turczi, illustrated by Mihajlo Dimitrievski

The Imperium series continues in this asymmetric card-based civilisation building game for 1-4 players, charting the rise and fall of fourteen of the greatest civilisations from history.

Flawsome

A Journal to Embrace Your Lovable Inner Weirdo

by Delia Taylor

Celebrate your flaws and turn them into your superpowers!

"Flawsome (adj.): a word to describe an individual who embraces their flaws and knows they are awesome regardless."

Self-acceptance has been a popular and welcome theme in many of our journals. Today, nerds are cool, weird is wonderful, flaws are beautiful, and happiness is all about being raw and real and expressing your true self.

This journal will be full of self-affirming prompts for anyone who feels like they are tired of trying to be perfect (which honestly is everyone right?) and want to be loved for who they are, both inside and out.

Sample prompts:

- Normal is overrated. What are the top 3 weirdest things about you? How much do you love them?
- List 3 things you like to nerd out about. What bizarre obsessions bring you tons of joy?
- What part of your body is abnormal in the most adorable way?
- Find a "bad" photo of yourself on your phone and mark it up with stars and circles highlighting all the truly awesome things you can find if you look for the positive.

Free Yourself from Emotionally Immature Parents

A Journal for Adults with Toxic Families

by Asha Gibson

A journal for moving beyond a toxic upbringing. Emotionally immature parents come in many forms - some are narcissists who see their children as extensions of themselves, some are selfish and often put their own needs ahead of their children's, and some are more subtle in their manipulation. Dismissing a child's feelings, grand gestures as substitutes for stability, and constant fighting and drama between the parents can have a lasting impact on children's emotional health. This journal helps adult children of emotionally immature parents break the cycle of toxic parenting and practice maturity in their own relationships. With insightful prompts that help readers find healing and hope, this journal will appeal to the millions of people who have suffered at the hands of their immature parents.

One Card a Day Tarot Journal

365 Daily One-Card Readings for a Year of Intuitive Reflection
by Melanie Baker

Keep track of your daily one-card readings for a rich tarot experience in just minutes a day

One of the best - and most common - ways to engage with tarot is to pull one card each morning and let its meaning set your intentions for the day. This practice is used by beginners and experts alike to incorporate tarot into their daily lives, without a major time investment. This journal acts as your daily companion - it offers space to jot down which card you pulled, what it represents, and how it might relate to your day, along a space at the bottom for an optional evening reflection. As the days pass, you can look back to determine patterns and improve your card interpretation skills.

Author Bio

Melanie Baker is a freelance writer and world traveler who's been living a life she loves since discovering the secret to manifesting her dreams (and the occasional parking spot). She's based in Seattle but feels at home wherever she finds herself with her husband, their very good border collie, Marco, and a strong cup of coffee.
