Black Bird of the Gallows

Meg Kassel

A dark psychological romance perfect for fans of Holly Black or Maggie Stiefvater, whose yet to be published sequel won the Golden Heart® for Best Young Adult Romance.

A simple but forgotten truth: Where harbingers of death appear, the morgues will soon be full. Harbingers settle in places where tragedy is about to strike, then feed on the energy of the dying. Then, they leave. Off to the next doomed place. No one wants a family of harbingers of death as neighbors, but that's exactly what seventeen-year-old Angie Dovage gets when Reece Fernandez moves in next door.

Angie knows the mysterious boy is more than he appears, but can't imagine that his presence heralds a massive tragedy that will soon devastate the region. She has more to worry about than Reece's inevitable departure, because where harbingers of death go, the Beekeepers follow. Their sting turns sane people crazy, kind people into killers. Where Beekeepers go, people die. Quite horribly, in fact. Their love of chaos makes a disaster that much harder to survive, and they are stinging at will, causing a sudden epidemic of violence in her quiet mining town.

Angie wants to protect everyone she cares about, but stopping the Beekeepers involves a choice that will claim her life or Reece's soul. She's about to learn the price of both.

Debut author Meg Kassel is a New Jersey native who graduated from Parson's School of Design and worked as a graphic designer before embracing her true passion. She lives in Maine with her family. A fan of '80s cartoons, Netflix, and ancient mythology, Meg has always been inspired by the fantastic and creepy. When she's not writing, Meg is reading and hanging out with her family. She is a two-time finalist and the 2016 winner of the RWA Golden Heart® contest in YA. <http://www.mkassel.com>

Hiding Lies

Julie Cross

Fans of Veronica Mars or Ally Carter will love the snarky, whip-smart former con artist Eleanor, in this sequel to Chasing Truth.

Last fall, Eleanor Ames and her new boyfriend, Miles, divided their time among chasing down a murderer, uncovering way too many secrets about their fellow Holden Prep classmates, and falling uncontrollably for each other. With Miles back in the safety of his military school and the mystery of Simon's death solved—mostly—it's looking to Ellie like the new semester at Holden Prep will be much less exciting than the last one. Especially now that she doesn't have to work at concealing her past from Miles.

But when she receives startling news about her mother, a new mission begins to pan out. A mission Miles would never approve of. In order to reduce her mother's prison sentence, Ellie uses a Holden Prep field trip to help the FBI investigate a new con her dad and crew are pulling in NYC.

Julie Cross is a NYT and USA Today bestselling author of New Adult and Young Adult fiction, including the Tempest series. She's the author of the Letters to Nowhere series, Whatever Life Throws at You, Third Degree, Halfway Perfect, and the Off the Ice series. Outside of her writing, Julie is a committed—but not talented—long-distance runner, creator of imaginary vacations, Midwest bipolar weather survivor, expired CPR certification card holder, and a gym shoe addict. www.juliecrossbooks.com

Remember Yesterday

Pintip Dunn

The sequel to the New York Times bestselling and RITA award winning novel Forget Tomorrow is a perfect sci-fi futuristic read.

Seventeen-year-old Jessa Stone is the most valuable citizen in Eden City. Her psychic abilities could lead to significant scientific discoveries -- if only she'd let TechRA study her. But after they kidnapped and experimented on her as a child, cooperating with the scientists is the last thing Jessa would do.

But when she discovers the past isn't what she assumed, Jessa must join forces with budding scientist Tanner Callahan to rectify a fatal mistake made ten years ago. She'll do anything to change her past -- even if it means aligning herself with the enemy she swore to defeat.

When her first-grade teacher asked her what she wanted to be when she grew up, Pintip replied, "An author." Although she has pursued other interests over the years, this dream has never wavered. Pintip graduated from Harvard University, magna cum laude, with an A.B. in English Literature and Language. She received her J.D. at Yale Law School. Pintip lives with her husband and children in Maryland. Visit her online at www.pintipdunn.com.

Seize Today

Pintip Dunn

The third book in the New York Times bestselling and RITA award winning Forget Tomorrow series is a thrilling conclusion to an epic trilogy.

Seventeen-year-old precognitive Olivia Dresden is an optimist. Since different versions of people's futures flicker before her eyes, she doesn't have to believe in human decency. She can literally see the path to goodness in each person—if only he or she would make the right decision. No one is more conflicted than her mother, Chairwoman Dresden, and Olivia is fiercely loyal to the woman her mother could be.

But when the Chairwoman captures Ryder Russell, a boy from the rebel Underground, Olivia is forced to reevaluate her notions of love and faith. With Ryder's help, Olivia must come to terms with who her mother is in the present—and stop her before she destroys the world.

When her first-grade teacher asked her what she wanted to be when she grew up, Pintip replied, "An author." Although she has pursued other interests over the years, this dream has never wavered. Pintip graduated from Harvard University, magna cum laude, with an A.B. in English Literature and Language. She received her J.D. at Yale Law School. 27 Hours

Tristina Wright

A tense, fast-paced sci-fi thriller set during one 27-hour night, with an entirely POC and queer cast, from a bisexual author who is a diversity advocate with a growing platform.

Rumor Mora fears two things: hellhounds and failure. Jude Welton has two dreams: a nightside without death, and for his strange abilities to vanish.

But in no reality should a boy raised to love monsters fall for a boy raised to kill them.

Nyx Llorca keeps two secrets: the moon speaks to her, and she's in love with her best friend. Braeden Tennant wants two things: to get out from his mother's shadow, and to unlearn Epsilon's darkest secret.

In twenty-seven hours, they'll have to stop the war between the colonies and the monsters from becoming a war of extinction, or the things they keep secret will never come true, and the things they fear will be all that's left.

Tristina Wright is a writer and online advocate for accurate bisexual representation. When she's not writing stories that combine science fiction and magic, she can be found coloring her hair various shades of blue, contemplating new tattoos, and hanging out with her family. www.tristinawright.com.

Never Apart

Romily Bernard

An intriguing, romantic dark contemporary romance perfect for fans of Lauren Oliver's Before I Fall, where a girl dies over and over again, but always finds the boy she loves.

Every five days, Grace Freeman dies.

Each time, she wakes in the same inescapable nightmare, falling from parallel world to parallel world, each life slightly different than her first. She's never alone, though, because Ander Hale is always with her. No matter what Grace's life is like or where Ander is, they always find each other.

But, no matter how far they run, Finn always finds them.

This Fall is different. Worse. Ander doesn't remember Grace, but Finn is still coming for them. Grace has to find a way to stop him alone. But stopping Finn means confronting her past. What if every memory of the boy she loves never happened? What if Finn is actually trying to save her? And what if the never-ending nightmare is hiding something so much worse...

Jay Asher called Romily Bernard's FIND ME a YA thriller that keeps picking up speed; Wondrous Reads said, "It's creepy and chilling and impossible to put down." Romily has worked in various jobs over the years, but has managed to escape the corporate cell that ate her soul. She lives in Georgia with her husband and sundry animals. Beneath her taste for the dark and dangerous, she is delightfully witty. www.romilybernard.com

Hide from Me

Mary Lindsey

The start of a thrilling and sexy new werewolf series perfect for fans of the Lux series or Maggie Stiefvater.

We all hold a beast inside. The only difference is what form it takes.

Rain Ryland has lived on the streets his entire life, bouncing from one homeless shelter to another, so when his mother dies and a court orders him to move to a tiny town in the Texas Hill Country to live with an aunt he's never met, he knows his life is about to change—he just has no idea how much.

Seventeen-year-old Friederike Burkhart has a legacy to protect. She also has a pack of wolf shifters to lead, a coven of spell weavers to guard, a murder to solve, and a boatload of homework on top of it all. The last thing she needs is a nosy human in the mix. But when another dead body turns up, Freddy realizes she can trust no one and is in over her head. Maybe the hot human boy could be the key to finding the killer.

As Freddy and Rain team up to solve the murders and stop more deaths before her pack is exposed, they find themselves the next targets. Can they uncover the killer before losing their lives...or their hearts?

Mary Lindsey is an award-winning, RITA® nominated author of romance for adults and teens. She lives on an island in the middle of a river. Seriously, she does. When not writing, she wrangles her rowdy pack of three teens, two Cairn Terriers, and one husband. She loves to connect with readers and can be found at marylindsey.com and on Twitter at @MaryL_MarissaC.

Omega

Jus Accardo

The second book in the Infinity time travel series is full of action, romance, and an intricately designed roller coaster plot.

For the right price, The Infinity Division will bring back your loved ones...

Eighteen-year-old Ashlee Sinclair had her life meticulously mapped out until a single moment of careless rebellion stole it all away. With one bad decision, three people were dead, including Noah Anderson, the son of one of the most prominent families in town. His father runs The Infinity Division, a company that has unlocked the technology to travel between parallel Earths. For a price, they will pluck a lost relative from another universe, wipe their mind, and deliver them right to your doorstep. They call them Reincarnates.

In retribution for Noah’s death, the Andersons waged war against Ash and her family, decimating almost every aspect of their lives. With nothing left to lose, Ash makes one last plea, appealing to Corey, Noah’s younger brother. But they’re attacked and Corey is killed. She almost joins him—until a ghost sweeps in and saves the day. Noah.

At first she thinks he’s a Reincarnate, but something is wrong with the way he looks at her. She finds herself drawn to the fire she sees in his eyes. Fire that’s unmistakably for her. When the man who killed Corey frames them both, labeling Noah and his friends Skips—cross dimensional terrorists—they end up on the run. Soon Ash finds that there’s so much more to this than clearing her own name. Innocent lives are at stake.

JUS ACCARDO spent her childhood reading and learning to cook. Determined to follow in her grandfather’s footsteps as a chef, she was accepted to the Culinary Institute of America. But realized her true path lay with fiction. Jus is the bestselling author of the popular Denazen series from Entangled publishing, as well as the Darker Agency series, and the New Adult series, The Eternal Balance. A native New Yorker, she lives in the middle of nowhere with her husband and three dogs

The November Girl

Lydia Kang

Told from the POVs of the daughter of Lake Superior and a boy running from the violence in his life, this haunting, atmospheric novel is perfect for fans of Bone Gap or the Mara Dyer series.

A few months before his eighteenth birthday, Hector runs away to the remote Isle Royale on Lake Superior. In the spring, when he'll be legally free from his brutal uncle, he can go back to the mainland. Until then, he'll have to weather the vicious autumn storms and find a way to survive the hostile, uninhabited island.

But he's not as alone as he thinks. Anda is the Witch of November, the daughter of the lake itself, and she thirsts for storms and shipwrecks. When she finds Hector on her island, she should run him off for his own safety—but she's fascinated by him and his unusual ability to see her. For the first time, she might have found a reason to fight her bloodthirsty nature.

Hector is running away from violence; Anda has violence running in her veins. Together, they could save—or destroy—each other.

Lydia Kang is an author of young adult fiction, poetry, and narrative non-fiction. She is a practicing physician who has gained a reputation for helping fellow writers achieve medical accuracy in fiction. Her poetry and non-fiction have been published in JAMA, The Annals of Internal Medicine, Canadian Medical Association Journal, Journal of General Internal Medicine, and Great Weather for Media. She believes in science and knocking on wood, and lives in Omaha with her husband and three children.

The Unexpected Affections of Julian Adair

Lisa Brown Roberts

Signature humor and heart-pounding romance meet Pride and Prejudice in Lisa Brown Roberts's latest romantic comedy.

No one knows why Julian Adair left his fancy boarding school to complete his senior year at Longbourn High School, and he's not about to tell anyone - especially not the bossy Abby Bennet who runs the school service hours project with an iron fist.

Abby is determined to humble the arrogant newcomer via his service project, and he's just as determined to dodge the requirement. Julian came home for an important reason, and the last thing he needs is a pesky do-gooder interfering in his life.

Tempers flare and misunderstandings escalate between Julian and Abby, and when a wave of robberies rattles the town of Meryton- casting suspicion on Julian- Abby isn't sure what to believe about the enigmatic newcomer.

Julian loves to fly solo in his beloved Cessna, but for the first time in his life he considers the benefits of a co-pilot...especially one as irritating-and appealing- as Abby.

Lisa Brown Roberts still hasn't recovered from the teenage trauma of nearly tweezing off both eyebrows and having to pencil them in for an entire school year. This and other angst-filled memories inspire her to write YA books about navigating life's painful and funny dramas, and falling in love along the way. She lives in Colorado in a house full of books, boys, four-legged prima donnas, and lots of laughter.

Sea of Strangers

Erica Cameron

A diverse, gritty fantasy with multiple complex cultures, a third sex, and high-tension romance, perfect for fans of Marie Lu and Ellen Oh.

Follow up to the 2017 release Island of Exiles.

Khya and Tessen are on the run. With Varan chasing her across the sea and the people come to warn of his invasion hunting them down on land, Khya has nowhere to turn. The only way to kill Varan before he destroys her home and invades Ryogo is to find a way to break immortality—which also risks her brother’s life. And Ryogo has a new magic. A way of using the world’s energy that she’s never seen before. Harnessing it could change everything and keep Ryogo safe, but this land of hostile strangers doesn’t want Khya’s help, and it doesn’t want to give up its secrets about Varan.

Where the Sea Takes Me

Heidi R. Kling

The sequel to Heidi Kling's Where I Found You is a sweeping romance full of exotic locations and heart-pounding emotion.

It's been three years since Sienna had to leave Deni on the broken shores of Banda Aceh, Indonesia. Three years she's spent trying to patch together her broken heart.

Now a freshman at Stanford, Sienna loves her classes, and her see-you-on-the-weekend relationship with Spider is going really well—that is, until three bombs drop.

One: Spider asks Sienna to transfer to his college and move in with him.

Two: Sienna's father, unbeknownst to her, helped Deni get a student visa. Meaning Deni's coming to Stanford. This week.

Three: That relief trip to Cambodia she's about to take? Deni's going with her.

When Sienna sees Deni again, it's like she's back on that beach. And he feels the same way. How can Sienna move forward with Spider, the boy who loves her body and soul, when Deni makes her feel so incredibly alive? And after finding each other again, how can she let him go?

After earning her MFA in Writing for Children from the New School in New York, Heidi R. Kling returned to Northern California where she lives with her family just over the coastal mountains from the sea.
