FAMILIUS

Helping Families Be Happy™

Congrats, David & Stephanie!

Nothing makes a family publisher more proud than seeing its staff start families of their own. Congratulations to David, our director of all things digital and design, on his marriage to Stephanie. They are the proud mom and step-dad to Tucker.

Tucker loves the turtle in Color Blocked. It's on page 6!

Welcome to the FAMILY

In Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Alice asks the Cheshire Cat, "Would you tell me, please, which way I ought to go from here?" The cat replies, "That depends a good deal on where you want to get to." "I don't much care where—" Alice begins. "Then," cuts in the cat, "It doesn't matter which way you go."

Where do you want to go? can be a very important question. Where do you want to go as a parent, as a spouse, as a person? When I was in high school, I read M. Scott Peck's The Road Less Traveled and wondered how he knew so much about me, how he could so perfectly capture my challenges and how I felt (as did millions of other readers). I also read a lot of poetry, being one of "those" literary kids, and I fell in love with Robert Frost and connected Peck's book with Frost's poem.

As I watch the world around me and the challenges families face—whether they be divorce, fatherless homes, abuse, troubled youth, poverty, lack of education, substance or pornography addiction, or other issues—I find that there is a road, unfortunately, less traveled today and that people are often confused or are not thinking about what road they want to take. The road less traveled requires hard work and real commitment, but it leads to a happy family. The books that Familius publishes are, in my opinion, progressive. They don't contend to change the world or solve a global crisis. Instead, they literally take the problems of the world and bring them back to the home where everything starts. We encourage people to take the road less traveled and be a counterpoint to the family issues today by understanding that the most important work they will ever do will take place within the walls of their own home.

In that way, we'll change the world one family at a time.

Color Blocked

BY ASHLEY SORENSON,
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DAVID MILES

The color is blocked! Readers must rub, turn, and tap the pages to straighten out pipes, unplug corks, and keep the color flowing. But watch out—the color might run faster than you can keep up! Along the way, readers will learn primary colors, how mixing colors can make secondary colors, and why you should never, ever put a turtle in charge. Ages 4–6

- Intricate black-and-white line drawings frame the pipes and walls while vivid splashes of color explode across the pages
- Readers are delighted with invitations to tap, trace, blow, turn, and interact with the pages of the book
- Entertaining way to teach primary and secondary colors
- Die-cut cover peeks through to exploding colors of paint
- Author Ashley Sorenson wrote The Very Cold, Freezing, No-Number Day, called “one worth counting” by Kirkus

Like a Shooting Star

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY RINO ALAIMO

Award-winning filmmaker and author of The Boy Who Loved the Moon Rino Alaimo returns with an endearing tale about self-discovery and love. When a young boy's father doesn't return from the war, the lonely boy wishes upon a shooting star—one that turns out to be a little firefly who, try as she might, just can't fly. Touched by the boy's earnest wish, the firefly undertakes a courageous journey to bring the boy's father home. Hope, love, and the courage of an unlikely hero fill the pages of this stunningly illustrated picture book. Ages 4–6

- Gorgeous illustrations in Alaimo's unique style that earned praise for *The Boy Who Loved the Moon
- Written and illustrated by an award-winning international filmmaker
- Filled with beautiful themes, including family, love, overcoming weakness, and courage
- Striking dust jacket detailed in spot glitter

Rino Alaimo works as a cartoonist and filmmaker. His first book, The Boy Who Loved the Moon, was adapted from his own short film that has won accolades around the world. He holds a degree in art history from the University of Genoa in Italy. He resides in Italy.

Praise for The Boy Who Loved the Moon

"It leaves the reader breathless with delight. The Boy Who Loved the Moon is a transcending experience for children and adults."

—Midwest Book Review

"Night-black spreads lit with warm, copper-tinged light show the boy diving into the sea for an exquisite pearl, then slaying a dragon for its diamond eye . . . It's clear that Alaimo is a polished craftsman in both mediums."

—Publishers Weekly

"An atmospheric version of the author's prizewinning short film, a lad woos—and ultimately wins—the Moon . . . In video and on paper, the art casts an evocative glow."

Untying Parent Anxiety (Years 5–8)

18 Myths that Have You in Knots— And How to Get Free

BY LISA SUGARMAN

Raising the perfect child . . . it's our dream as parents. But the reality is: the perfect child doesn't exist. Yet parents everywhere are putting the full-court press on their kids to be perfect, fixating on raising them to be smarter, faster, more successful, and more popular than their peers. And that's driving today's parents and their children crazy.

In Untying Parent Anxiety, nationally syndicated humor columnist and author Lisa Sugarman reminds us that our kids aren't supposed to be perfect. (And neither are we.) They're going to screw up, make mistakes, and lose their way. And as soon as we embrace the idea that parenthood is not a straight line, we unlock everyone's full potential.

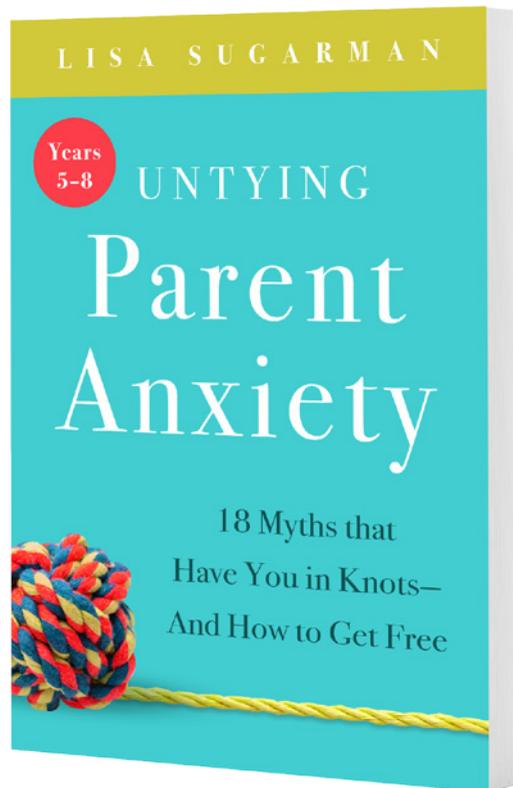

Drawing on her life as the perfectly imperfect mother of two daughters and more than a decade of working in the school system, Sugarman deconstructs some of the biggest myths facing parents and offers advice and strategies to help soothe anxious moms and dads.

Cycling through everything from friend drama and separation anxiety to playing nice and emotional development, Untying Parent Anxiety is a funny but honest journey through the most common stages of raising kids that reinforces that parenthood is a beautiful, imperfect work in progress.

Lisa Sugarman

is a long-time columnist and humorist for GateHouse. A regular contributor at BeingAMom.life and Active Family Magazine, she understands firsthand that life is a work in progress, especially when you're raising kids. A wife and mother of two daughters, Lisa lives in her hometown of Marblehead, Massachusetts, a tiny coastal town of twenty thousand people crammed onto a small peninsula just north of Boston.

Mothering with Courage

The Mindful Approach to Becoming a Mom Who Listens More, Worries Less, and Loves Deeply

BY BONNIE COMPTON, APRN, BC, CPNP

Mothering with Courage urges mothers to self-reflect and bravely confront their insecurities, weaknesses, and fears as they discover their inner strength and wisdom. Only from that space can a mother decide how to be the best, most authentic mother for her child.

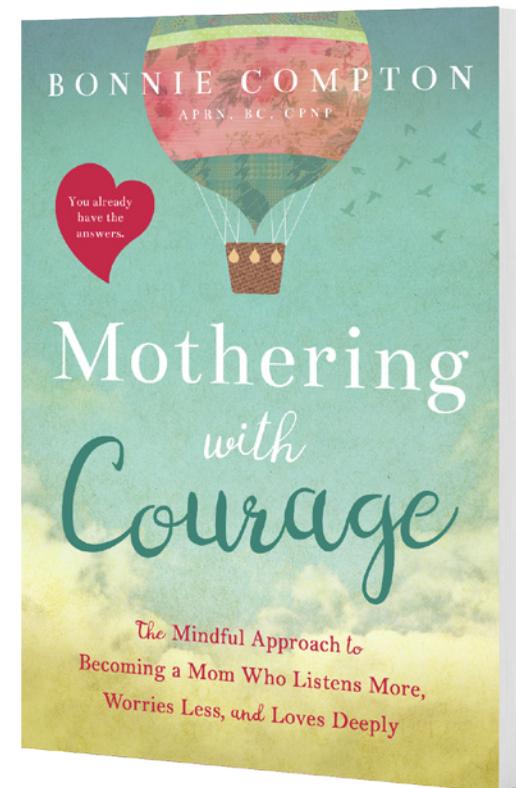

Mothering with Courage provides mothers a detailed guidebook for their journey as a mother, complete with the latest understanding and tips for healthy parenting and motherhood. Practical, educational, and inspirational, the book provides self-reflective questions and guided journaling exercises to help mothers be more present, more loving, and more confident.

With proven insight from thirty years of professional experience, Bonnie Compton engages mothers in an interactive experience that will help map their own journey of motherhood, consciously creating it as they move through the book gaining insight and making personal choices. The text and exercises also guide mothers to mindfully choose the legacy of values and attitudes that they want to pass to their children. As a result, they will be given the opportunity to become a calm and connected mother . . . a mother who is confident in her journey.

Bonnie Compton, APRN, BC, CPNP, has worked for more than 30 years with mothers and families as a child and adolescent therapist, parent coach, and pediatric nurse practitioner, giving them the tools to parent mindfully and guiding them to wake up to what really matters to them as mothers. She is a workshop and retreat facilitator and hosts her own podcast radio program, Wholehearted Parenting Radio, which is available on iTunes, Web Talk Radio, Radioactive Broadcasting Network, and Stitcher Radio. She is also a certified ScreamFree™ Parent Leader. Bonnie received her master's degree in nursing, as a pediatric nurse practitioner, followed by her post-master's/clinical nurse specialist degree in child and adolescent psychotherapy from the University of Maryland, School of Nursing. If It Sits, I Licks

The Ultimate Dog Quotebook

BY ERIKA RIGGS

Everyone thinks they have the best dog. And none of them are wrong.

—W. R. Purche

If you've ever owned a dog, lived with a dog, walked a dog, or even pet a dog, you know that they are the four-legged embodiment of happiness. Even when you catch them in the act of chewing your shoes, you can't help but love them (and their puppy dog eyes). With quotes from dog lovers, owners, rescuers, and influencers, If It Sits, I Licks is a new kind of quote book about how these furry companions complete our lives.

How to Have an Amazing, Fantastic, Loving, Playful, Intimate, Happy Marriage in Two Minutes a Day

The Two-Minute Secret for Staying Passionately in Love

BY HEIDI POELMAN

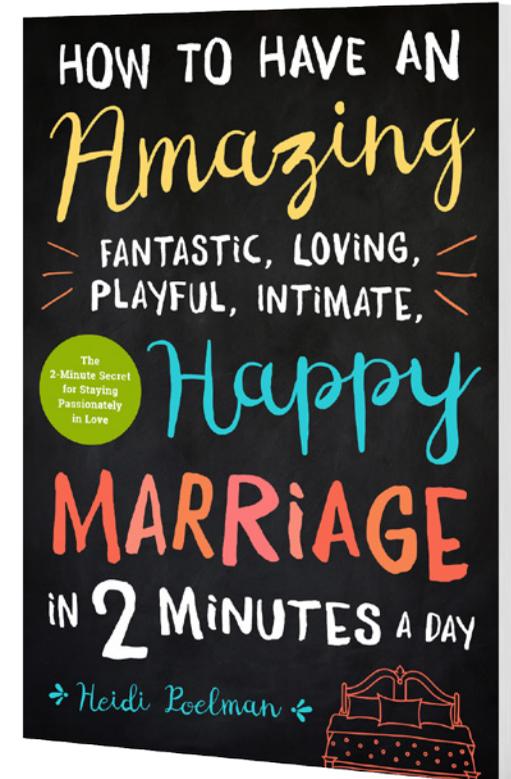

Marry the one you love, and love the one you marry. It sounds simple enough. But staying in love turns out to be a whole lot different than falling in love. In a world of constant distraction, marriage experts agree that the little things matter—a lot. How to Have an Amazing, Fantastic, Loving, Playful, Intimate, Happy Marriage in Two Minutes a Day explores the little things couples think, say, and do to stay in love for the long haul.

Supported by expert studies, interviews with happily married couples, and years of personal experience, author Heidi Poelman shares the simple secrets that keep love alive. Whether it's choosing an attitude of gratitude, leaving a love note, giving a welcome-home hug at the door, or calling just to say "Hello," How to Have an Amazing, Fantastic, Loving, Playful, Intimate, Happy Marriage in Two Minutes a Day is full of simple ways to love the one you married, two minutes at a time.

Heidi Poelman

graduated from Wake Forest University with a master's degree in communication. In graduate school, she had a particular interest in studying marriage dynamics. She wanted to know why something as simple as a tone of voice, a type of greeting, a sincere compliment, or a phone call could so greatly impact the feelings between two partners. This curiosity moved her to write her first book, The Two-Minute Marriage Project: Simple Secrets for Staying in Love, in which she was able to more fully explore the significance of seemingly simple thoughts, words, and deeds. Heidi lives in Utah with her husband, with whom she has three children.

Bestsellers from Power of Moms

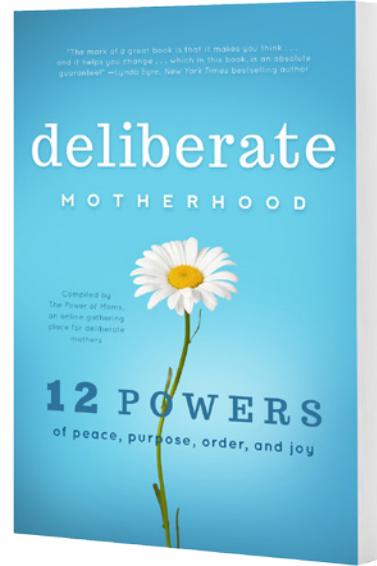

Power of Moms is an online community of deliberate mothers. Since 2007, millions of mothers from all backgrounds who are striving to be the best they can be have gathered at their website to learn and grow together. Time and again, their posts receive comments that say something like, "I am going to print this out and put it on my nightstand so I can read it again and again." They've been concerned about those nightstands . . . getting all cluttered up with paper. So we've selected dozens of the most popular posts and compiled them neatly into these books just for you.

Why Can't We Just Play?

Pam Lobley
In a culture where children are pressured constantly to achieve, what happens when you let your children do nothing at all? Nationally syndicated humor writer Pam Lobley decided to slow down and give her family a summer that was a throwback to the 1950s. With trademark wit and candor, she reveals what we can learn from those long-ago families, why raising kids has changed so drastically, and most importantly, how to stop time once in a while and just play.

"In this touching and honest memoir, Baum shares the story of how her search for peace informed her life. Baum's genuine desire to make a difference may well inspire others to do the same."—Publishers Weekly

"An inspiration and a pathway to all who yearn for peace."—Gerda Weissmann Klein, Holocaust survivor and author of All But My Life

Where There's Smoke, There's Dinner

Regi Carpenter

Family: comfort food or a recipe for disaster? Award-winning storyteller Regi Carpenter brings her trademark humor to print with tales of a family that pulsates with contradictions: religious and raucous, tender but terrible. These honest stories celebrate the glorious and gut-wrenching lives of four generations of Carpenters raised on the St. Lawrence River.

Stunning Folk Children's Books with Silhouette Artist Clay Rice

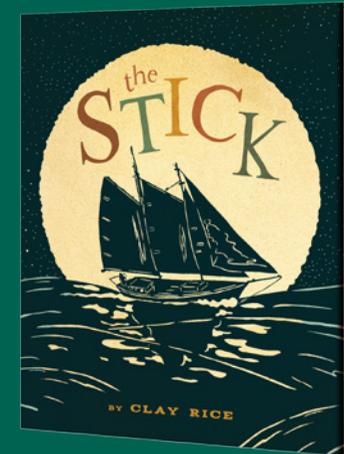

Clay Rice is described by author Pat Conroy as a “great talent who combines soul and passion”. Silhouette artistry and storytelling have been in his family for more than 80 years. His grandfather, Carew Rice, was described by Poet Carl Sandburg as “America’s Greatest Silhouettist” and traveled worldwide, sharing his mesmerizing cutouts with delighted customers. Clay is the recipient of the Moonbeam Children’s Book Award and the IPPY Award for Children’s Book of the Year. Clay’s landscape scenes and children’s illustrations are sought after by collectors worldwide, and his work is on permanent display at the South Carolina State Museum.
