I'm Not Missing

A Novel

Carrie Fountain

Set in the desert city of Las Cruces, New Mexico, I'm Not Missing is the debut novel by an award-winning poet about a half-Latina girl stepping outside of the larger-than-life shadow of her best ...

When Miranda Black's mother abandoned her, she took everything—the sun, moon, and stars—and Miranda found shelter in her friendship with Syd, who wore her own motherlessness like a badge of honor: Our mothers abandoned us. We won't go begging for scraps.

When Syd runs away suddenly and inexplicably in the middle of their senior year, Miranda is abandoned once again, left to untangle the questions of why Syd left, where she is—and if she's even a friend worth saving. Her only clue is Syd's discarded pink leopard print cellphone and a single text contained there from the mysterious HIM. Along the way, forced to step out from Syd's enormous shadow, Miranda finds herself stumbling into first love with Nick Allison of all people and learning what it means to be truly seen, to be finally not missing in her own life.

Wonderful Feels Like This

Sara Lövestam

The Elegance of the Hedgehog meets The Perks of Being a Wallflower in this widely praised novel in translation about celebrating being a little bit odd, finding your people, and the power of musi...

For Steffi, going to school every day is an exercise in survival. She's never fit in with any of the other groups at school, and she's viciously teased by the other girls in her class. The only way she can escape is through her music—especially jazz music.

When Steffi hears her favorite jazz song playing through an open window of a retirement home on her walk home from school, she decides to go in and introduce herself.

The old man playing her favorite song is Alvar. When Alvar was a teenager in World War II era Sweden, he dreamed of being in a real jazz band. Then and now, Alvar's escape is music—especially jazz music.

Through their unconventional but powerful friendship, Steffi realizes that she won't always be lonely in her small town. She can go to the music school in Stockholm. She can be a real musician. And she can be a jitterbug, just like Alvar.

But how can Steffi convince her parents to let her go to Stockholm to audition? And how is it that Steffi's school, the retirement home, her music, and even her worst bully are somehow connected to Alvar and his story? Can it be that the people least like us are the ones we need to help us tell our own stories?
