Trivial Pursuit Ultimate Puzzle Book
Trivia-based word searches, jumbles, crosswords and more!
edited by Editors of Media Lab Books

Get ready to give your brain a workout! The Trivial Pursuit Ultimate Puzzle Book includes more than 200 word puzzles that put a spin on what puzzle fans might normally expect. Each puzzle is designed so that trivia is the basis for each answer. So, for example, instead of providing a list of words for a word search, this book provides a list of trivia questions, with the answers hidden within the puzzle. Similarly, the answers in a list of word jumbles might all relate to a general trivia question - such as "What were the names of the first 20 presidents of the United States."

Each puzzle is categorized by theme, as in the classic Trivial Pursuit game, which covered geography, entertainment, history, arts & literature, science & nature, and sports & leisure.

General trivia questions will be spotlighted in bursts throughout the book for added fun! It's a ton of brain-teasing fun that turns classic tabletop trivia into "do anywhere" pencil puzzle entertainment.

Mi6 Spy Skills for Civilians
A real-life secret agent reveals how to live safer, sneakier and ready for anything
by Rupert Kohl, introduction by John "Lofty" Wiseman

Be like Bond. James Bond.
Mi6 Spy Skills for Civilians shows readers how to master the skills of an agent in Her Majesty's Secret Service in order to protect themselves, be sneakier and handle any situation - even if it involves escaping from a hostile foreign country. Inside they'll find dozens of real secret agent skills and tips detailed and explained, often with helpful illustrations to clarify how they're done.
Sections covered include:
Surveillance
Safe Travel Tips
Dead Letter Boxes
Brush Contacts
Self Defense
Innocuous and Natural Weapons
Intelligence Gathering
Subterfuge
Covert Methods of Entry
Insertion and Extraction Techniques
And More!
Readers will find more than 90 skills in all, detailed by a former SAS and Mi6 operative. It's invaluable information formerly available only to a select few - and now it's available to readers, too!
Includes a foreword by John Lofty" Wiseman, bestselling author the SAS Survival Handbook.

Author Bio

Rupert Kohl joined the British Army at the age of eighteen. After basic training, he volunteered for Pilot Training and qualified as an operational helicopter pilot going on to serve in Germany, Northern Ireland, Canada, Belize and Cyprus. He was later appointed Flight Commander SAS Flight Hereford. At the age of thirty-six, he left the Army Air Corps and transferred to the SAS. In 1980, Kohl was a member of the United Kingdom Counter Terrorist team, which laid siege to the Iranian Embassy taken over by heavily armed terrorists later that year. In 1982, Kohl escaped internment in Chile during the Falklands War as part of an audacious top-secret attempt to attack the Argentinian mainland. In 1989, when Kohl left the army, he was quickly recruited by MI6 where he served until 2015. During that time, he was imprisoned in the darkness of the Sierra Leonean jungle and withstood heavy fire in war-torn Beirut and Syria. Kohl splits his time between the UK and Spain.

Toxic Farts, Brain-Eating Amoebas, Mosquito Assassins & More
297 terrifying ways nature is trying to murder you
Editors of Media Lab Books

Why does nature try to kill us? In the same way that humans thin the herd when a particular group of animals grow too dense or too expansive for their habitat, nature tries to make sure we live in balance with the world as well, which, let’s face it, we suck at.

Toxic Farts, Brain-Eating Amoebas, Mosquito Assassins & More details hundreds of the scariest, messiest, smelliest, most terrifying ways that nature works to destroy, maim or sicken humans every single day.

Each page of this book examines an oddity (or two) from the natural world that is harmful to humanity. And we’re not talking about car wrecks, warfare, drug overdoses or parachute accidents. We’re talking about biology, chemistry, botany, invasive little critters that eat our brains, slimes that dissolve our flesh, smells that cause our throats to close up, and other environmental assassins.

Provided with such information, we might just survive.

That’s right. It’s humans vs. the world and, damn it, we’re going to win if it kills us.
